Oscar is a qualified Commercial (Business) Engineer , with a Masters in International Business and other qualifications in sociology , Currently doing an Diploma level course in physics, circuit and electronics in MIT. With a strong and broad knowledge base Oscar is not just able to present template solutions but customise and develop ideas to innovate and improve processes. Moreover with a clear understanding of the impact of each change across a company his proposals are always analysed from several points of view before presented.

His analytical and fresh approach to find opportunities for improvements make him a valuable source of resources to build the grounds for a business cultural change.

Today, the execution of many Lean projects has been trusted to Oscar, and he has achieved all his KPI. His clear vision in lean-six sigma and his conviction to help customers to achieve their goal have allowed him to perform at a high quality level regardless of the environment.
