Jason is a degree qualified Manufacturing Engineer with a wide range of experience and capability developed from over 22yrs working within the Automotive, Logistics and Finance sectors. Working within such diverse industries has allowed Jason to experience first-hand how Lean methodology can be applied within the workplace, whether on the factory floor or office environments.

His experience in Lean has been developed through various process improvement roles over 9yrs within Robert Bosch Australia and across 3yrs within NAB (National Australia Bank). In addition to the above, Jason holds his trade certificate in and Fitting & Turning.

Progressing to a facilitation and coaching role has been a natural progression for Jason as he has the ability to connect to a broad range of personalities, building sustainable relationships with clients and their employees. He is focused on service and acts in the best interest of clients by matching solutions to customer needs.
